

FRENCH STILL GAINING IN SPITE OF HEAVY COUNTER ATTACKS

CELEBRATE U. S. ENTRY INTO THE WAR BY RELIGIOUS SERVICE IN LONDON

SEC. HOUSTON WANTS GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF FOOD PRICES

While the French advance last night was not so spectacular as on the preceding days of the great battle along the Aisne and in the Champagne, progress was nevertheless continued in important sectors.

This was notably true of the region northeast of Soissons, where the lines of envelopment are gradually being drawn nearer to the important railway center of Laon, the strategic objective in this division of the front.

The French here gained ground in the vicinity of Taffans, the advance being characterized in the official statement as "considerable." The Germans reacted strongly on this front, but were unable to make any impression on the new French lines.

General Nivelle's pressure here is calculated to force the Germans speedily out of the sector to which they have clung, projecting toward the Aisne in the direction of Compe.

The advance towards Laon also was continued on the Vaucouleurs plateau, almost directly south of this city, where the French are pushing northward west of the Rheims-Laon road. On the main north of Rheims where the Germans are clinging stubbornly to their strongly entrenched positions, several of their trenches near Courcy were carried in grenade attacks. Headway also was made east of Lorraine in this sector.

In the Champagne, notably near Monciville, the Germans launched their expected violent counter attacks, which the French troops were amply prepared to meet. The result was that the Germans, although their attacks had been prepared by heavy bombardments, were badly cut up and failed to attain their object.

Signs of renewed activity also that appeared yesterday on the British front in the Arras battlefield, where some gains in the Lens region and east of Fampoux were reported, extended last night to the district north-west of St. Quentin. London today reports British progress in the neighborhood of Villers-Guislain, midway between St. Quentin and Cambrai.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Secretary Houston today recommended to the senate that the council of national defense be empowered to fix minimum and maximum food prices.

"STOP HOARDING FOOD"

CHICAGO, April 20.—"Stop hoarding food!"

This was the cry that swept Chicago today as two new restraints—one governmental and the other voluntary—were thrown against the steadily growing wave of household buying.

Pressure applied to the situation took the following forms:

The speculator: An investigation of reports that speculators were cramming warehouses in an effort to corner the market in certain foodstuffs was begun by Health Commissioner Robertson.

The consumer: Through its president, Mrs. T. Verne Moore, the Home Makers Guild instituted a nationwide movement to check hoarding of foods through appeals to the patriotism of women.

Despite the restraints thrown about food hoarding by the quantity limitations established by grocery stores, the multitude of buying by households led many grocers to institute what amounted to virtual disruption of retail routine.

Deliveries in many instances were stopped entirely or limited to certain products. Quantity restrictions were expanded until they covered almost every staple.

Reports were received today that grocers' shelves in many instances had been swept clean of canned goods, sugar, flour and soap.

LIQUOR LICENSES GRANTED BY LICENSE BOARD

The license commissioners met in their office in the Market street building this morning and granted 34 of the 106 or 107 licenses which will be granted. Of the number granted 59 were of the first class, 23 of the fourth class, five of the second class and one of the third class.

Five applications for licenses of the first class and five of the fourth class together with the applications of the

Stars and Stripes Flew From Highest Tower of Parliament Buildings at Westminster—Bishop Brent Says Victory is in Sight—Star Spangled Banner Played

LONDON, April 20.—The British people and Americans in this country celebrated America's partnership in the world war by a religious service today in St. Paul's cathedral, attended by the official heads of the nation and a great congregation which included hundreds of Americans and many prominent British men and women.

There was a display of American flags in London and all other English towns and a popular demonstration by the crowds which surrounded the cathedral. The stars and stripes flew from the highest tower of the parliament buildings at Westminster—the first time a foreign flag was ever displayed on that eminence—and flew above all government buildings in the British capital.

The service in the historic cathedral, where the most momentous occasions of national rejoicing and mourning have been solemnized for centuries, was unprecedented in being the commemoration of an act and decision on another nation.

Overhead in the dim arches hung the distasteful and battle torn flag of the American war of the Revolution, while, among the tombs and monuments of famous soldiers ranged about the walls were the names of those who fought against the colonies in that war.

SIX HURT WHEN AUTO TURNED TURTLE

A large automobile containing six people, four men and two women, crashed through the railing of a culvert in the Great road, near Harvard lane, in Littleton last evening. The machine turned turtle, the occupants were thrown out, the gasoline tank exploded and the car was demolished.

Augustus Vincent of Force Village was seriously injured and was reported to the Lowell hospital in this city. Other members of the party received minor injuries.

The party was on its way from Littleton to Force Village, about 5:30 o'clock, when the operator of the machine evidently lost control of the car, which was traveling at a high rate of speed, and it crashed into the railing of the culvert. The car turned turtle, injuring all members of the party.

People who witnessed the accident immediately went to the assistance of those who were thrown from the car and those who were trapped. The car was converted into a hospital. Dr. Christie of Littleton was summoned. On his arrival Mrs. Vincent was removed to the Lowell General Hospital, where it is feared that she has sustained a fractured skull and is in a dangerous condition. The names of the other occupants of the car have not been learned, except that of the chauffeur, a man named Carpenter, who admitted that the car was going at a high rate of speed and that he lost control of it, thus causing the accident.

TURKISH FORCES COMPLETELY ROUTED TO MAKE ROOSEVELT MAJOR-GENERAL

LONDON, April 20, 4:15 p. m.—General Maude, commanding the British forces in Mesopotamia has forced a passage of the Shatt-el-Adhem, attacked the Turkish positions and completely routed the Turkish forces, says an official statement issued today by the British war department. Six or 1200 Turks have been taken prisoner.

BRITISH SUCCESS IN EGYPT

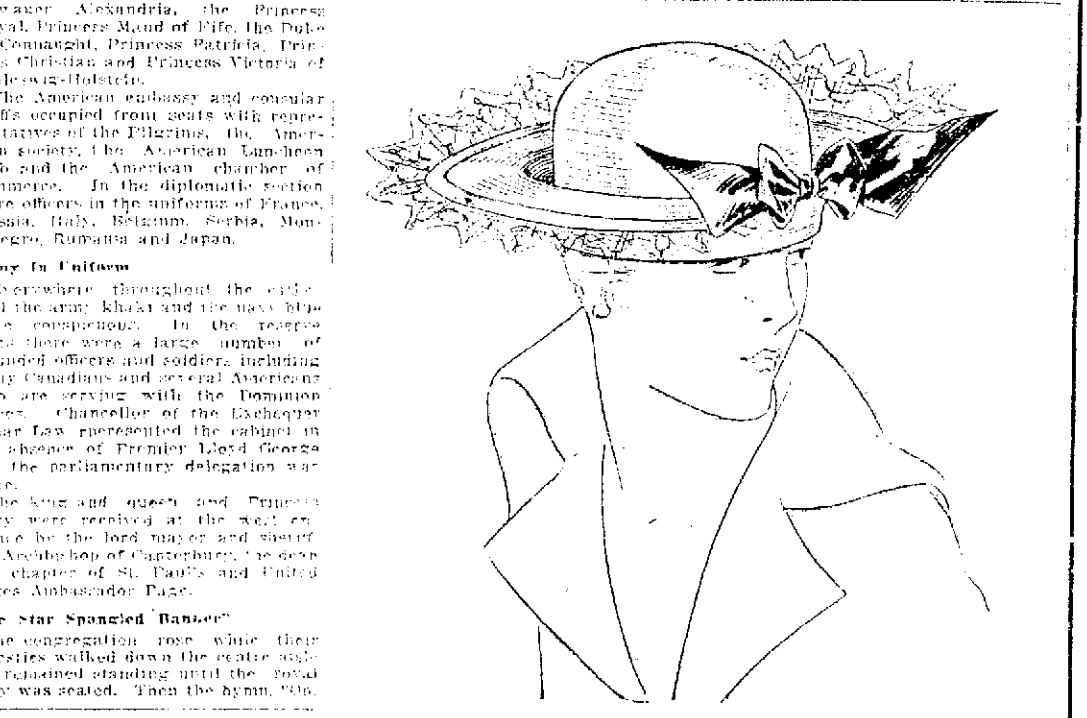

LONDON, April 20, 4:15 p. m.—The general officer commanding the British forces in Egypt reports in an official statement to the war office that on April 17 the British advanced north of the Wadi Ghazza in southern Palestine, and captured the Turkish advanced positions along a front of six and one-half miles.

The attack, the British statement says, was assisted by the fire of warships and the position gained was consolidated. Fighting was still proceeding at the time the report was sent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Congressman Rogers has re-introduced the bill for the Lowell postoffice and site on the same lines as that of last session. It was part of the omnibus public building bill, the whole of which failed to pass. The present bill asks for an appropriation of $500,000 for the building and site.

The U. S. War Loan of 1917

The United States government will issue a war loan in the near future for $7,000,000,000. This loan may be made in installments.

The last war loan was raised in 1916, $2,000,000,000, of 3 per cent, 28-year bonds, issued at 100. They were put out in denominations as low as $25.

The loan was seven times oversubscribed, the total subscriptions having been approximately $13,000,000,000. There were 222,224 subscriptions for $500 or less, totalling about $100,000,000. No single subscription of over $500 in bonds was allotted.

Patriotism means both loyalty and this country desires to do his part toward making the loan an overwhelming success. We are prepared to receive subscriptions without commission or profit to ourselves, and shall be glad to supply full details as soon as they are available.

This war is the concern of every citizen of the United States.

EACH MUST DO HIS SHARE

Patriotism means both loyalty and sacrifice.

OPENING OF SUMMER MILITARY CAMP

The formal opening of the summer military camp of Garde Sacre-Coeur of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, located in Hudson, took place yesterday and the affair was one that will be long remembered by the boys of the organization. The program of the day included a hike to the camp, an excellent dinner, entertainment numbers and military maneuvers.

The members of the guard left their quarters in East Pine street, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning and with Capt. Alfred J. Renaud in the lead, hiked to the camp by way of Chelmsford and Tyngsboro. Upon arrival at the camp a flag raising ceremony was held with Rev. J. B. A. Barre, O.M.I., hoisting the national colors, while the gathering sang "The Star Spangled Banner." At the close of the day, dinner was served and the remainder of the day was devoted to outdoor sports, military maneuvers and musical and literary numbers.

THE NEWTON GIRLS

A banquet and entertainment was held at the Harrison hotel last evening by the Newton Girls, the event marking the closing of a successful bowling season. A beautiful dinner was discussed and then the Pellet Girls, captained by Mrs. Carr, were declared the winners of the league championship and the announcement was received with cheers. Miss Adeline Richardson, who was one of the chief organizers of the league, was presented a purse of gold as a token of esteem on the part of the members of the league, the presentation being made by Julien Dognis. Miss Mabel Brennan, Miss Carney and Miss Whitely entertained with vocal and instrumental selections.

CORPORATION SHOWS REAL PATRIOTISM

In order to stir up the patriotism of the young men in its employ the Bay State Cotton Corp. recently made an announcement to the effect that it will pay full wages to its employees enlisted in the present war, such payments to be made to the families of the enlisted men and to be maintained until the termination of the war.

This is the second time that this company has shown its patriotism by offering full compensation to its employees who enroll under the national colors. Last year when troops were sent to the Mexican border the employees of the company who volunteered for such duty received their full pay during the whole time they were in the service, and the amount disbursed by the company amounted to more than $200 a week.

SOUTH ENDS WIN, 12 TO 0
Early South Ends opened their season in a blaze of glory yesterday on the South common when they defeated the Centipedes of Lawrence, 12 to 0. It was a severe trouncing the Lowell boys gave their down-river rivals and ample revenge for the defeat sustained at their hands in the opening game last year. A crowd of 500 lined the hillside and surrounded the playing surface and gave the home team every encouragement. Devlin pitched a wonderful game and fanned 15 of the opposition. Harry Pitts opened the season in proper form by tossing over the first ball and was a sort of master in charge of the outpourings.

The South Ends batted and fielded with reckless abandon and are apparently in mid-season form. O'Day worked like a clock around the bases, stole home and smashed out a tremendous home run drive which cleared the trees in left field. (Text of the Centipedes was a good word.)

SMALL DOCKET IN THE POLICE COURT

This morning's session of the police court was an exceptionally short one, especially after a holiday. The majority of those arrested for being drunk were first offenders and ten were released by the probation officer.

Camille Holmquist who was in court Wednesday charged with drunkenness and the license of a pair of shoes from an unknown person, reappeared in court. He previously testified that the shoes had been given to him by a man in a store in Prescott street, but the police have been unable to locate the owner of the shoes. He was placed on probation for six months.

Harry Boone entered pleas of guilty to complaints charging him with drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $20 for operating the automobile, the case of drunkenness being placed on file.

The case of Owen McKenna charged with assault and battery on Annie McSherry was to have gone to trial this morning, but was continued for 10 days after Deputy Downey informed the court that the woman was still confined to the hospital. It is alleged that McKenna poured boiling water on the woman's body a month ago and she was so badly burned that at one time it was thought she would not recover from the burns. McKenna is held under $1000 bonds.

Diana Berger, charged with drunkenness, made her fifth appearance in court yesterday and was sentenced to the state farm. James Cherry pleaded guilty to being a vagrant and was sentenced to the state farm. Several drunk cases were filed and one man was placed on probation for six months.

James Burns, a carpenter residing in Smith street, walked in front of an electric car near the corner of Middlesex and Smith streets on the night of March 27 and sustained injuries which resulted in his death two weeks later.

It was called to Billerica street to put out a brush fire which had got beyond control. At 5:05 p. m. those 11 were called to extinguish a grass fire off Asawam street.

If you want to reach the people who spend their money in Lowell, advertise in The Sun, Lowell's greatest newspaper.

JUDGE PICKMAN HOLDS THREE INQUESTS

Inquests into the deaths of James Burns, Fred Clark and Frederick Calahan were held before Judge John J. later.

Pickman in the court of second sessions in the Market building this morning.

Frederick Calahan, aged three years and residing in Lawrence street, was run over and instantly killed by an automobile truck belonging to the American Woolen Co. near the Colburn school in Lawrence street on April 12.

Fred Clark, a legless man, was struck and knocked down by an automobile near St. Jean Baptiste church in Merrimack street last week and sustained a fracture of the skull which resulted in his death at the Lowell hospital Saturday night.

James Burns, a carpenter residing in Smith street, walked in front of an electric car near the corner of Middlesex and Smith streets on the night of March 27 and sustained injuries which resulted in his death two weeks later.

MORE BRUSH FIRES

The members of the fire department were kept busy yesterday responding to alarms for grass and brush fires. At 12:05 yesterday afternoon a brush fire broke out on land on the Boston road and these 4 responded. At 2 o'clock a brush fire off Steadman street near the depot and Chelmsford street was extinguished. Four minutes later a telephone alarm came in for a brush fire off Chelmsford street near the City hotel and Engine 2 responded to the alarm. At 3:30 p. m. a brush fire on Vernon avenue resulted in those going to the place, and at 4:05 o'clock

LOWELL COUPLE HELD AT IMMIGRATION STATION

Apostolo Deligas and his young bride, who were recently married in Greece, are being held at the immigration station in Boston and although they will be deported it is believed the couple will be held at the station until after the close of the war on account of the danger they would incur in making the voyage abroad.

Deligas, has been a resident of this city for the past six years. A short time ago he returned to his home country and was married and shortly after the ceremony the newly wedded couple embarked aboard the Celtic and made a sea voyage to this country. Upon landing in Boston a government physician discovered that the young man was afflicted with tuberculosis and a board of special inquiry recommended that he be deported. His bride was also barred from entering this country on the ground that she is liable to become a public charge. The case has been referred to the authorities at Washington by the bride, who asks that they be permitted to land in this country at least pending deportation.

MATRIMONIAL

Charles J. Dean and Miss Besse Coggins were married Wednesday afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph A. Curtis. Miss Jennie Coggins, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the best man was Leo McCarthy. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 22 Howard street. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 19 Shaw street.

Mullen-Donovan

Mr. Lawrence Henry Mullen, assistant foreman at the United States Cartridge Co., and Miss Helen Catherine Donovan, a well known young lady of the Immaculate Conception parish, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O.M.I. Robert F. Mullen, a brother of the groom, was best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Mullen, a sister of the groom.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was attired in light green. Margaret Mullen was the flower girl and she wore white chiffon and carried a large basket of pink and white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 277 High street where a large number of friends of the happy couple gathered to offer congratulations and best wishes for a happy future. Present were friends from Fall River, New Bedford, Malden and Boston.

Mr. Mullen's gift to the best man was a ring set with three rubies while the bride presented the bridesmaid a handsome sapphire.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs.

A PAIR OF EXTRA PANTS FREE

This Is a Special Offer on a Business Suit

Down in the heart of New York's financial district, where I operate two stores and sell more custom garments in one week than I do in two months in Lowell, I recently tried out the experiment of making

TWO PAIRS OF TROUSERS

to a Business Suit, so much extra wear comes on the trousers, and at times it's hard to match a coat and vest with an extra pants. I thought it would be a lasting advantage to the customer to make him an extra pair of trousers of the same goods when ordering his suit.

The deluge came upon me from men in all walks of life. I specialized on snappy, classy woollens of desirable grades and placed a price of $15.00 for the Suit and Extra Pants of the same goods. In figuring the selling price my purpose was to break even on the extra pants. But in making the customer take the extra trousers I did him a favor that he will appreciate later on in the form of a repeat order through my establishments.

Lowell has its percentage of men in all walks of life, for a trial of this proposition. I am setting aside a special line of Worsted and Woolen Suitings in Grays, Browns, and Fancy Mixtures. A man of refinement and culture may wear it to church—meeting—or any place business calls him; in brief, the suit is a leader from which I expect many return orders and new customers.

I'll make this Suit and Extra Pants to your measure, guarantee you a satisfactory fit, cut and make it any style you wish, and show you what Mitchell can do for smart custom garments for little money. Ask to see this Special Offer and you can have an Extra Pair of Trousers to match your suit Free of Charge.

HIGH MASS OF REQUIEM

At the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning a high mass of requiem was sung in memory of the late Edward F. Shea, a well known singer and Doer war veteran. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Fr. McQuaid, O.M.I., and the congregation was large. The musical program incidental to the service was particularly impressive, and was given by an augmented choir under the direction of William L. Gookin, with Mrs. Hugh Walker at the organ. The Gregorian requiem was sung, its statelyness being enhanced by a splendid chorus of male voices. At the offertory, John J. Dalton, a lifelong companion of the deceased, sang Leybach's "Pie Jesu" while after the elevation, Mr. Gookin, another "Pie Jesu" sang "O Meritum Passionis." At the conclusion of the mass Andrew A. McCarthy sang De Profundis assisted by the choir. The mass was the second anniversary of Mr. Shea's death.

COMMUNITY GATHERING

A community gathering of some significance was held in upper Gorham street yesterday afternoon, when a beautiful American flag was raised at the home of Simon Dean, 1240 Gorham street. About 200 friends and neighbors were present at the exercises, which were made interesting by the presence of Mayor James E. O'Donnell, who spoke briefly on patriotism and the meaning of the flag. Dignity was added to the occasion by the presence of a squad of militiamen under command of Corp. McDermott, and all in all the event was most successful and inspiring. "The Star Spangled Banner" was sung as the folds of the flag caught the breeze and slowly unfurled.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The appearance of Margaret Anglin and a talented company at the Playhouse yesterday afternoon and last evening in the presentation of the comedy "Green Stockings" was a reminder of the good old days of real players before the arrival of the picture show with Charlie Chaplin and his horde of cheap imitators.

This play was very popular years ago. It is still good and those who attended last evening—unfortunately the audience was not as large as it should have been—enjoyed the occasion immensely. Miss Anglin is, still, the graceful, tactful, versatile actress. The plot of the comedy hangs upon the old custom that where there are several sisters of marriageable age, when one of the younger gets married the eldest wears green stockings at the wedding. In a family of many sisters the eldest has become tired of observing this custom and threatened with a repetition when the youngest sister gets married decides to pretend that she is engaged and thus escape the slurs occasionally directed at the spinster. Accordingly she announced her engagement to a mythical Col. Smith, alleged to be serving in the British army in Somaliland. She wrote a love letter addressed to him and while she thought she had destroyed it, it was picked up by her sister and mailed. The elder sister in a few months has had a notice of Col. Smith's death published and the news came as a great shock to the family. Finally Col. Smith under an assumed name calls upon the writer of the love letter pretending to bring a dying message from Col. Smith. Little by little he discovers the real situation, falls in love with the writer and wins her hand.

Miss Anglin as Celia Farraday gave a delicious presentation of the role of the eldest sister, while Alfred Lunt as Col. Smith, showed a fine conception of the role and proved equal to all its requirements. Miss Maud Durand as the aunt of Miss Farraday, contributed most of the comedy, her simulation of hysteria and intoxication being done with artistic skill.

Miss Anita Lawrence, Howard Lind-say, Cyril Courtney and Alfred Fisher were good in their respective parts. It seems that a great many people did not realize that such a high class play was coming to the Playhouse. Two excellent attractions are announced for next week and they should be a welcome relief for those tired of the movies.

MAKING IT PLAIN

The Pure Food and Drug Laws aim to protect the public by preventing mis-statements on the labels of preparations but some people continue to accept "extracts" of cod livers thinking they will get the benefits of an emulsion of cod liver oil.

The difference is very great. An "emulsion" contains real cod liver oil, which has had the hearty endorsement of the medical profession for many years, while an "extract" is a product which contains no oil and is highly alcoholic.

Scott's Emulsion guarantees the highest grade of real Norwegian cod liver oil, skillfully blended with glycerine and hypophosphites. Scott's is free from the false stimulation of alcohol and is endorsed by good physicians everywhere.

GOOD HORSE RACING ON THE BOULEVARD

An informal program of horse racing was held on the Pawtucket boulevard yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Lowell Driving Club. The program was planned to be carried out at the club's track, Golden Cove, as a Red Cross benefit, but owing to the heavy condition of the track the event was transferred to the boulevard.

There were many interesting and well contested races, particularly that one in which Lady Prelacy and Silver B participated. The former was driven by Arnold J. ### FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

The annual roll call of the First Universalist church was held last evening, 235 members responding to the call of their names. The church choir, Mrs. E. L. Roberts, soloist, sang several selections, and a pleasant feature of the occasion was the presentation of a picture of the late Deacon M. Langley to the church by his daughter, Mrs. A. M. Banchelder. The annual presentation was made by Mark Adams, clerk of the church, and the gift was accepted by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Fisher, D.D.

Father Joschko's Strong Statement

Endorses Plant Juice and Recommends It to All Sufferers of Stomach Trouble

When nature calls for assistance it is needed quickly, but it must be a remedy that leaves no bad effects, that builds up, not tears down. This is the logical effect of Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy.

Very Rev. Don Roberto Joschko is attested by the numerous testimonials of well known local people who have regained their health by the use of the famous preparation.

The Very Rev. Don Roberto Joschko, of No. 301 Salem street, Chicago, Ill., Vice-General of the Diocese, who is known and beloved by hundreds of people throughout the state of Illinois, who will be glad to learn of the recovery of a gentlemanly society to health, has given the following:

"For more than 12 years I have suffered with stomach trouble, some many medicines of various kinds without any help. Two years ago I was forced to go to a hospital in Winnipeg, Canada, and remained there for over four months. I heard of Plant Juice and the first two days I had taken it got so much relief that I continued its use. The gas has left my stomach, I have a good appetite now and feel greatly improved in every way. I am glad to endorse Plant Juice and would recommend it to all sick people, especially for stomach trouble."

Such words as these and those of many others which have been printed have wide influence, for they come from men of standing and integrity who have given Plant Juice a fair trial and have been greatly benefited thereby.

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, The Dispensary, in Merrimack square, Lowell, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. On Saturday he will remain at the store until 10 p. m. to meet those who are unable to call during the day.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dunderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

There were volleys in khaki, ushers in evening dress, and the bunting, flags, music, singing, speaking and cheering all contributed to make the occasion a notable one. There were surely as many women as men present and the cheering was so hearty they displayed through it all the waves of applause when the speaker gave utterance to vigorous words, the almost continuous standing up and sitting down as some song or occasion demanded, all contributing to make an impressive vast and stirring scene. Mr. Taft arrived here from Boston at 5.38 and was met at the depot by the military and the Sixth Regiment band. The company of the Sixth regiment from Quincy, stationed for the summer at the state armory in Westford, took formed an escort for the former president. The line of march was from the station through Middlesex, Central and Merrimack streets to the York club where 100 scout boys were lined up, forming an escort for the distinguished visitor. They gave the salute and the former president gave the lady a two-minute talk on patriotism.

At the York club the reception the first Hon. William Howard Taft, then president of the United States, the meeting took place in the White House and the chief executive of the nation chatted pleasantly with little Virginia and gave her his personal autograph. When Virginia heard that the former president was coming to Lowell, she thought the world like to meet him again and she did accordingly. Somebody told Mayor O'Donnell that Miss Sargent would like to meet Mr. Taft and the mayor, with characteristic willingness and desire to please, brought her to the meeting at the York club. The former president was warmly greeted by Miss Sargent and he greeted her most cordially.

Mr. Taft was the personal guest of Mr. F. E. Dunbar and after the dinner at the York club automobiles took the guests and the committee to the armory.

Scene at the Armory

Long before the arrival of Mr. Taft and party every seat in the great dished at the armory was taken and far more than half an hour the Sixth Regiment band regaled the big company with music. On the entrance of Mr. Taft the "John Bull" and the "Star Spangled Banner" while the

The United States Government at Berlin told Germany that they urged their nation she would discontinue her method of ruthless warfare, and that pledge we condoned her offense. A little before the first of last January she notified us, and the nations of the world, that she intended to sink without warning any vessel entering a zone 600 miles long, from 60 to 240 miles apart, off the coast of France and the coast of Great Britain. ## PLEA FOR MEMORIAL TO GENERAL BUTLER

The following communication touches a subject of general interest to the people of Lowell, but particularly to the older residents who knew General Butler.

Mr. Editor:
While the soldier boys are proudly marching during the early morning hours through our streets and the bands with martial music are enlivening their spirits and the patriotism of our citizens is aroused to a still higher pitch, one cannot repress the thought that Lowell soldiers were first in the Civil and Spanish wars, and that Lowell is now among the very first, ready and prepared, to contribute her share in defense of the country.

The reason why I am sending this letter to you, is to remind the citizens of Lowell that they are open to one very serious criticism, I might say, censure, by reason of failure to erect some permanent and appropriate memorial to the man who did more for the glory and world-wide reputation of our city than any other of her citizens.

He, with the co-operation of other Lowell men, raised and equipped at their own expense, the first regiment, the gallant sixth, that marched in 1861 to the defense of the National Capital.

Yet, there exists in Lowell today no adequate public monument or statue to commemorate the memory of General Benjamin F. Butler, a soldier, a patriot, a statesman, a lawyer and a manufacturer of national reputation.

This man possessed wonderful versatility and genius in many of the most exacting activities of life. No matter what his critics may say, he possessed something besides a magnificent brain. He had a heart for humanity and especially for the struggling masses who need all the friend they can get. He believed in popular government. His sentiments were in accord with the principles of true and genuine democracy, which are now like a great storm sweeping over the dominions of long-rented autocracy and militarism.

During such a stirring and inspiring period, which carries joy and hope to so many unfortunate millions beyond the seas, it would seem fitting to recall the deeds of one who would rejoice with them if living, and whose life was spent among us and whose remains rest here.

I am not seeking to eulogize unduly this great man, who might have been even president of this great republic, but merely to hint at a few of his many virtues.

He made many enemies. His family and domestic relations were exceptionally happy and at his own bedside his tender and considerate nature found complete expression.

I ought to suggest that there is, or was, a bronze bust of General Butler in Memorial Hall in Lowell before the fire, which was destroyed and which, through someone's neglect has never been repaired.

Immediately after the war, which will end soon, let the citizens of Lowell see to it that there shall be erected a permanent public place in our city an impressive and enduring statue in bronze or granite of Gen. Butler, where it can be seen by all as long as the city may last.

Let us not much longer neglect the payment of this weak and inadequate tribute, which friends and foes alike owe to this great man who was so proud of Lowell and did so much for her.

William N. Osgood.

A CREAMY LOTION MADE WITH LEMONS

Prepare a quarter pint at about the cost of a small jar of common cold cream.

When this home-made lemon lotion is gently massaged into the face, neck, hands and arms daily, the skin naturally should become soft, clear and white, and the complexion dainty and attractive. What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily it naturally should help to whiten, clear, smoothen and beautify.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons. In this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion ladies can easily prepare and have an inexpensive toilet aid which perfectly satisfies their natural desire for a beautiful soft skin.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.
Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and fluffiness and lustrous, try Danderine.
Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots furnish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.
If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

"YOUNG" JAKE SCHAEFER "CHIP OFF OLD BLOCK"

"A chip off the old block." This is the expression currently used by billiard followers in their talks about "Young" Jake Schaefer, star billiard player, who will be seen in action at the Rollaway rink next Thursday afternoon and evening in conjunction with Willie Hoppe, Chas. C. Peterson and Chick Wright. "Young" Jake is only a boy with boyish ideas but he has perfected his style of play to such an extent during the last few months that the old-timers of the green cloth see in him a duplicate of his father, the late "Wizard" Schaefer, who reigned supreme in the billiard world before the advent of Hoppe. Like his accomplished parent, Young Jake is developing a wonderful stroke and under the tutelage of Willie Hoppe is absorbing knowledge rapidly. The main attraction of the billiard show under the management of R. B. Benjamin will of course be Willie Hoppe, the incomparable. Hoppe, beyond question a doubt, is the greatest billiard player of all time. There is not a player today who even approaches him or who can give him a close battle in a tournament game. Hoppe is supreme. He will be seen in action against Schaefer and Wright. Charles Peterson is the bright light of the quartet. He is the man who made famous the saying "Show me a shot I can't make." And to his credit it must be said that he has never failed. Peterson is recognized as the greatest fancy shot artist the world has ever seen. Hoppe, Peterson, Wright and Schaefer represent the most brilliant galaxy of billiard players who have ever toured the northwest.

KENNEDY WON THE B.A.A. MARATHON

BOSTON, April 20.—A gray-haired bricklayer, William J. Kennedy of New York yesterday won the annual American Marathon road race of 25 miles, outrunning a field of 50 younger men. It was a day of victory for veteran runners, as Sidney H. Hatch of Chicago, known as the "man of a hundred marathons," finished second, and Clarence H. Decker of this city, winner of the race in 1911, gained third prize. Hatched Kolehmainen of New York, Olympic star at lesser distances, was fourth. The time was comparatively slow, Kennedy's winning figures of two hours, 25 minutes, 37 seconds, being more than seven minutes behind the record. Hatch finished one minute, 41 seconds behind him, Decker in 2:21:05 and Kolehmainen in 2:21:35. Others who finished in the first 10 were: A. P. Merchant, Boston, 2:25:20; Chas. L. Mellor, Chicago, 2:30:34; Hans Schuster, New York, 2:37:25; W. L. Lynch, Washington, D. C., and Francis M. Dean of Rochester, N. Y., 2:44:25.

THE SHOULD MAKE A MILLION FOR HIM

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loosens Corns So They Lift Out.

Local druggists are having a tremendous call for freezone, the drug which is said to shrivel a corn, root and all, without any pain. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness at once, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers. This new drug is being dispensed at small cost in quarter ounce bottles, which is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn from one's feet. It is a sticky substance which dries at once, and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding skin. There is no excuse for anyone indulging in corns by infection or lockjaw from cutting their corns now.

BODIE'S TRIPLE BREAKS UP THE GAME

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—Bodie yesterday broke up the first extra inning game of the season here, when with two men out in the 12th inning and Grover on first base, he drove the ball into the left field bleachers, giving Philadelphia a 4 to 3 victory over Boston. Bating rallies in the seventh and eighth innings enabled the home team to tie the score. Myers took Parham's place at the start of the ninth and Pennock succeeded Mays in the same inning. Bodie led in the hitting, 10 times at bat he made four hits—three singles and the drive which won the game, which under the rules, was credited only as a triple. The score:

Be Careful in Using
Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very irritating to the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few minutes will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, smooth, and easy to comb. It loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and sandtruff. —A.B.

A magnificent band, furnished by Harry Bang and mandolin orchestra, a supper luncheon was served throughout the evening and at 11:30 o'clock the evening was over. ## NEW AMBASSADOR FROM RUSSIA COMING

The new democratic government of Russia is sending as ambassador to the United States Baron Roman Romanovich Rosen.

Baron Rosen was Russian ambassador to the United States from 1905 to 1911, when he was succeeded by Mr. Bakhmeteff, who, it is understood, tendered his resignation to the new government shortly after the successful revolution which overthrew the czar. He is said to be a believer in autocratic government for Russia, and therefore out of sympathy with the new regime.

Few Russians know the United States as well as Baron Rosen, who, thirty-five years ago, was appointed consul general in New York. Later he was charge d'affaires in Washington during President Cleveland's first administration.

From 1893 to the beginning of the war with Japan Baron Rosen was Russian ambassador at Tokyo and after his appointment as Russian ambassador to the United States he was selected as one of the Russian peace commissioners at the Portsmouth conference.

Don't miss seeing Ann O'Day's clever interpretation of the young woman with the psychic power in this week's presentation of "Seven Days" by the Emerson Players. It's a rich treat and should be seen to be fully appreciated, especially her treatment of the character when "extreme exhilaration" results from a free indulgence on an empty stomach to the proposed toast to the coming of "Aunt Selma." #### ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Miller's Musical Comedy Co. presented that satire "Dinkie and O'Brien" at Bulfinch Theatre before large and appreciative audiences at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon and evening. This production is by far the best that the company has staged since it opened in this city. The first part is laid on the grounds surrounding the health resort, while the second part is in the Café de Lux, and the humorous situations depicted during the progress of the show meets with well deserved applause.

Joe Taylor as "Hans Dinkie" and Hughie Flaherty as "Mike O'Brien" enthralled the audiences with laughter with their antics and jokes. They have a fund of new material which they peddle out in a manner which is well worthy of the applause it receives. J. B. Cunningham and Eddie Welch also assist in the dispensing of comedy. Principal parts are also taken by Bessie Shaw, Olie Perkins, the Mason and McLean Sisters.

Miss Cunningham's rendition of "Plain Polka" and "Lonesome" displays her wonderful voice, and it was necessary for him to respond to numerous encores. Eddie Welch appeared in one of his own peculiar specialties, which consisted of singing and dancing which pleased the audience, while Joe Taylor and Hughie Flaherty appeared in a new and original specialty in which Taylor poses as the leader of an orchestra, and Flaherty is the entire orchestra. The latter plays a varied program of instrumental selections, the like of which was never heard before.

Miss Bessie Shaw appeared at her best in the different numbers which she leads, being assisted in each by the entire chorus. Among the principal songs which she rendered were "Down Home," "Good Bye," and "America," the latter being especially good. The McLean Sisters also appear to good advantage in singing and dancing specialties. Marie's singing of "Rabbits" being one of the best bits of the performance. These McLean Sisters, who know how to please an audience, had little difficulty in receiving considerable applause at the conclusion of their act. During the first part they gave a clever specialty which included singing and dancing. Cecil as usual captivated the audience in that part where he portrayed a boy named "Eaton" who sings "Mother's Lullaby" in an effective manner.

Olie Perkins, the clever subterfuge, is as light as a feather on her feet and her singing is one of her specialties. She is a really magnet, her magnetic stage appearance, stinging and giving all contributing to make her the favorite that she is. Among the comedians and comedettes who are in the show is one of the best of the show. The chorus was exceptionally good, and the entire show was a most successful one. The production is a success.

The second part of the show was one of the features of the performance, each member of the company having a splendid opportunity to show their ability in both singing and dancing.

Performances will be given afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, and those who did not witness one of the better performances should wait till to see the best of the company in the city.

Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, was seen at the Academy of Music a couple of months ago. The company is booked for but one week, and it is unnecessary to describe at any length the merits of this show for those who know Thomas, Neil and Lee, supported by a strong chorus, know that the show will be a success.

The Sunday concert will be given Sunday afternoon and evening, the program including seven vaudeville acts and several reels of moving pictures.

VERY GOOD EDDIE

"Very Good Eddie" which ran for over a year at the Princess theatre, New York, and which left the metropolis with the reputation of being the smartest success of the past theatrical season, will be the attraction at the Playhouse Monday night, April 23, one performance only. "Very Good Eddie" has the reputation of being a well-managed musical comedy, although it is a good deal more than that. There are occasional wags and excursions from the paths of Puritanical righteousness. The score is said to contain many beautiful numbers, and the company is made up of the theatre with winning material on their home-bound journey.

As for the actual play itself, the company has been liberally drawn out. The Marbury-Constock company claims nothing startlingly original, so far as the plot is concerned, but there is a very little that is new. The plot is a general survey of the carefully selected characters, that is, the younger generation of the east, who walk in and out every time the stage looks lively, is enough to make one

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The big holiday bill which packed the performances yesterday at the Merrimack square theatre will be continued today and tomorrow at all exceptions. Beautiful Katy Gordon appears on this bill in her latest picture, "Forget-Me-Not," which is an interesting play with a smashing climax. In this play Miss Gordon wears some beautiful gowns which embody the latest ideas in women's dress. Blanche Sweet will also be seen today and tomorrow in a play that thrills, "The Tides of Barneat" is her latest feature, a tale of the sacrifice of one man to save another from disgrace. Also on this program are the Travel pictures of other lands, and other plays.

ROYAL THEATRE

Official pictures of "The British War" are the special attraction at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow, four reels are shown. Never in the history of Boston has any theatrical attraction been so successfully successful as these genuine films of the great conflict. Two thousand feet, the first transformer of a thousand feet which is the complete film, have been shown last week to capacity audiences. This week the second installment will be shown, and because of the strikingly timely nature of the pictures in this installment, everyone in Boston will want to see it.

The age thing which has threatened to involve the United States in the future struggle more than any other is the relentless and ruthless submarine warfare. All persons have read, talked and thought submarine more than any other subject. In many parts of "The British War" pictures the interest in the submarine warfare is the most complete film of "The Mystery of the Double Cross" and a story from the series of "Grant, Police Reporter" and other attractive comedies, the week-end program at this theatre.

OWL THEATRE

William S. Hart, the famous character actor of the screen will be seen in a somewhat different role than a "hard man" in the new "Frontier" picture, "The Square Deal Man," the play which will head the Owl theatre program today and tomorrow. "The Square Deal Man" which is the work of J. G. Hawks is a drama of the western plains. It tells the story of a gambler who threw down his cards for a slip of a girl and thereby won his honest stake. Romance is stimulated by the part the girl plays in turning the notorious Jack of diamonds from the name of the gambler to the name of the man who is the man of the town. "The Square Deal Man" is a popular screen comedy, and will also be seen on the same program in the Triangle comedy "A Thoroughbred" tonight. The story of "The Heart of the Heart of the Heart" will be the thrilling story of life in India, "The Heart of the Heart," starring William Clifford and Margaret Gibson.

COLONIAL THEATRE

For today and Saturday the famous star, Harry Carey, in "The Fighting Gringo," a 3-part drama of American grit is at this theatre. This play gives one a better light on the real power of the personality which accompanies the life as displayed in this country. Another interesting 2-part drama is shown in "The Amazing Adventure." Good comedy and other photoplays will also be shown for these two days. Watch for the announcement of "America is Ready," a tremendous moving picture production.

JEWEL THEATRE

With recruiting being conducted in all parts of the country, thousands of men taking examinations for commissions in the officers' reserve corps and under the surface preparations being made to send an expeditionary force broad to fight shoulder-to-shoulder with the allies, the "British War" motion pictures now being shown have become the most interesting and popular theatrical offering in the city. These remarkable pictures show the actual scenes in which American soldiers may find themselves within the course of a few months. They show the weapons in use by the Germans, the scientifically merciless methods for annihilating whole regiments of men which the Germans use, and the modern instruments in use by the allies to combat the inventions of the Boches.

Francis Ford and Grace Cunard in an episode of "The Purple Mask" and other fine attractions complete the week-end picture show at this popular house.

CROWN THEATRE

A timely photoplay indeed, is "The Nation's Peril," the play which will head the Crown Theatre bill today and tomorrow, and in which Earl Metcalfe and Ormi Hawley are starred. In this picture the entire Atlantic squadron of 10,000 soldiers, high officials of the navy department, the war college at Newport and the Newport training college are in the picture. Other excellent attractions will also be presented at the new Crown Theatre today and tomorrow.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. As night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now distinguish in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared two trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple recipe which is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eye two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes cleared up perceptibly right from the start. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any time I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by the leading druggists. Lowell Pharmacy, Luggett's Drug Store and others.

would rather have that legend put in a catalogue, than have it up there, because it reminds us of some unpleasant facts in our history. We went into the war of 1812 without an army worth speaking of. We had those volunteers in the battle of Blandensburg, called together to resist the coming of 6000 English troops; and it was not a battle, it was a sprinting match. Of course the English are now ashamed of the Canadians they committed, but anyone who reads American history is very much more ashamed that they had any opportunity to do such things!

"There is a gentleman—I do not know but there are more than one—who has said that when war comes we will summon a million freemen between sunrise and sunrise! That is eloquence, of a heated variety; but there is no truth in it!

"Now, my friends, why should we Americans, who are remarkable people in adapting means to ends, in taking the resources that are ours, and shaping them to great results,—why, when we come to matters of the utmost moment, matters that concern us intimately, matters that mean so much for the welfare of the country, why should we lose our sense and lead to dogmatic platitudes and not deal with a serious situation on serious business principles? Conscription means that every man shall be subject to be called to enter the army if he is fit, and if he is not needed somewhere else. The system as a permanent one would ordinarily include only those between 18 and 24 years, and the plan proposed is that they shall serve for a year, so as to become trained soldiers. Why is not that a good thing? Why should we wait until a war comes, and be utterly unprepared? Why should we not have a body of trained men from whom we can summon a trained army?

if our republic is in danger? What objection to a year of service? Our youths need discipline, they have not enough now. They need to be taught respect for authority. They need to be taught a knowledge of the service that they owe to their country. It will give them training in a physical way; it will teach them to take care of themselves. It will be an education most valuable to them and to their country all their lives long. It will not mean militarism. A year's training of that sort will not bring about militarism, and an increased number of officers will not create an aristocratic class that will turn us over to the control of military rulers. I have been in congress, but I have been 'thar or tharabout'; I have known the currents that control that body for a good many years; and I venture to say that the amount of influence that officers of the army will have with a congress coming from the people and selected by the voters in the districts, will be altogether free from danger to the republic!

with their backs to the engine, and they do not see anything until they get by it. I have spoken all over this country, and I think I know that the intelligent constituents of this country wish to have this war waged with effectiveness.

"Now, our situation is in war. I have said why we are in war, but the cause which made it necessary for us to go into war, when it brings into war, finds an opportunity much wider than the defense of the rights of our people against their invasion by a foreign country. I do not wish to minimize the importance of that, but we find a cause higher than any that has ever carried this or any nation into war, a cause of world-wide effect, that our success in the war and the well-being of our industry after the war can come in the progress of Christian civilization and in the creation of permanent peace.

"When this war began there were a number of us people shocked. We had been dreaming dreams of universal peace, and we found ourselves in this cataclysm, and we began to think that we could not prevent it, when this war was over, of preventing or making remote a recurrence of a similar disaster to the human race.

"We are here tonight to talk about a plan for helping the world. We are here to discuss something which has been our faith with the hope that it will attract the approval of nations so that they shall adopt it, and war will be less probable. In order to bring it

Auto-Intoxication Explained!

(By L. H. Smith, M. D.)

There is no question but that many people suffer from auto-intoxication, and poisoning. These are big words which are easily explained. Thru the failure of the liver to properly perform its work the twenty-seven feet of intestine become clogged. This stagnation allows poisons into the blood and the circulation, and one suffers from bad breath, foul taste in the mouth, and even yellow-coated tongue, headache, nausea or fullness. Gas often presses the diaphragm against the heart and causes pain there, or acid dyspepsia follows, often the inactive liver causes yellow skin and eyes, and one feels languid, tired and drowsy. At such times some people are advised by their doctors to take a mineral oil, often called "Russian Oil," but experiments by R. F. McDonald have shown, as lately reported in a recent issue of the publication of the U. S. Public Health Service, that mineral oil may act as an irritant that produces gastro-intestinal disturbances and that it may cause tissue proliferation, stimulating cancer.

A better method, which I always advise, is to take as much outdoor exercise as possible, drink half a pint of hot water morning and night and plenty of water between meals and take a pleasant laxative pill occasionally. Such a one is made up of the May apple, of vegetable calomel and other concentrated herb extracts that cleanse the bowels. This was first made and sold by almost all druggists nearly 50 years ago as Dr. P. J. P. Pleasant Pills. Such simple pills will remove that boggy, auto-intoxication, constipation and the ill that follow, by favoring healthy action.

about, we need the solid support of the American people, and that is what we are here for.

"We are here tonight to talk about a plan for helping the world. We are here to discuss something which has been our faith with the hope that it will attract the approval of nations so that they shall adopt it, and war will be less probable. In order to bring it about, we need the solid support of the American people, and that is what we are here for.

"Now the general purpose of the plan is this, that we shall have a league with a contract or treaty between all the nations of the world, binding them to a common purpose, the effect of the joint operation of which shall compel, by the united force of all a period of deliberation before any nation shall begin war against any other nation. During such period of deliberation the questions shall be lead to war shall be settled either in a court or a commission, according to the character of the question. If after a decision shall be rendered by the court or a recommendation of compromise made by the commission, either party then wishes to go to war, there is nothing in the league to prevent that party from doing so, but our idea is that a period of deliberation that could in the nature of things be as long as a year or perhaps two years of peace, in bringing about a full consideration and discussion of the issues, could make the people engaged in the controversy understand what it is that they are thinking of before they go to war. After they have had a chance to think over the subject in this analytical way, certainly there were that come with very hot tempers will not happen, and war can be avoided.

"Now that is the general hope and theory of the plan. It doesn't attempt to enforce the judgments or the recommendations of compromise, and it doesn't attempt to abolish the possibility of war, but it provides a long, calm, cold, analytical way for the nations to bring forward a plan to take steps that may be taken successfully, that it is to attempt too much, and certainly to fail.

The Propositions

"Now the first proposition is that whenever a question arises between nations that is capable of being settled on principles of law, it shall be submitted to a permanent international court. I ought to say that any nation that all important and stable nations are members of the league. It would be important first to secure all the great powers. I shall deal with the question whether that is practicable later on, but assuming that you have all the great powers in, then the proposition that the league offers to the great powers against sudden attack by a greater nation is bound to attract every stable minor power that the league would be willing to admit. Now, having them all in, not intending to operate on any but the members of the league, but having the members of the league include all the stable nations of the world, we may call it a world league. Now, then, the first proposition is that if between any two members there shall be a quarrel, then it is the business of those two members to submit that quarrel to the league to be settled by negotiation, if that a question that cannot be settled on principles of law and equity, to submit it to a court provided for that purpose.

"Now we have had such courts before, and they have worked, but the members of the United States is such a court. It sits to determine questions of international law between the states, that are not judicial, that the supreme court shall have jurisdiction to try controversies between the states and in most of those controversies the question which it has to determine is a question of international law, exactly the same kind of an issue that will arise in the case of an independent government. Various cases of disputes with Canada were cited in illustration.

Second Provision

"Now the second provision is, that in questions that are not judicial, that cannot be settled on principles of law and equity—that they shall be settled by a commission of conciliation, who shall go through the same procedure as any court would, and their decision shall be in the nature of a recommendation of compromise. It is one thing to enforce a judgment under rules of law that are understood, that perhaps you might suggest could probably be enforced between nations. It is another thing to enforce a recommendation of compromise in a question where there are no guides or rules and where you leave yourself to the unlimited discretion and fairness of the arbitrators.

"The Monroe Doctrine is not a question of law, it is a question of political policy. We enforce it or not, as we think it to our interest, and if a question comes up involving that doctrine which has to be submitted to a tribunal, it would be a commission of conciliation and they would recommend a compromise.

"We had an instance in the trouble with Great Britain over the taking of seals by our revenue cutters in the Bering sea. We own a great seal herd, or rather the islands upon which the seal herds gather. It is the most valuable seal herd in the world. It is also the largest. All the others are very small. The Canadian schooners began to shoot the female seals on the British islands. We arrested them and confiscated their vessels. They made objection and we took it to the board of arbitration who decided against us and said, that we had no jurisdiction because it was beyond the three-mile limit. But they said, it is Instant Relief! Neutralizes acid in stomach, stopping dyspepsia, pain, belching—It's fine!

You don't know what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if you feel gassy and upset, and what you eat is not as pleasant as it used to be, and you have heartburn, belch, gases and acids and eructate undigested food, breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened, and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quick, sure, most harmless attack is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops food souring and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Your stomach will digest your meals if you keep acids neutralized.

PROTECTING LABOR FORCES

Warning that mistaken zeal at the beginning of the war may lead to decreased production of materials and impairment of labor's strength is contained in a special bulletin on "Labor Laws in War Time" just issued by the American Association for labor legislation.

Protective standards for the industrial army are outlined and enforcement of existing laws is urged as an imperative duty in meeting the acute strain of war.

England's experience is cited as a timely lesson to the United States to permit no breaking down of the hard won labor standards. Experience abroad has shown that those who serve the industries are quite as important to military success as are the fighting forces, and the investigation ordered by the British minister of munitions disclosed that lengthened hours and speeding up have defeated the very purpose sought, by lowering human efficiency and decreasing output. This official report is quoted as finding that the nation cannot afford to continue the shortsighted policy of overtaxing its munition workers.

Indications have already appeared, according to this bulletin, that England's recognized mistake may be repeated in this country. An appeal is made to conserve our human resources by upholding protective standards as a prime essential of national effectiveness.

If protective standards for labor should be mistakenly set aside, as a war measure, the bulletin states, it may require a struggle to regain them with the coming of peace. And the nation's strength, both in war and peace, will suffer.

The work undertaken is divided under nine separate heads each of which offers opportunity for good results in the line of safe guidance and conservation. They provide for safeguarding dangerous machinery in factories so as to prevent accidents, proper sanitation and protection against occupational diseases and risk in handling explosives; three shift system in continuous industries and no permission to depart from the regular working day bases; equal pay for equal work and revision of wages to meet the increased cost of living; protection of children under sixteen against long hours and danger of accidents; maintenance of the regulations relative to women's work as to hours and conditions; proper administration of the workmen's compensation laws; investigation of idleness; extension of public employment bureaus to aid in the distribution of labor throughout the country; and representation of employers and employed in public bodies to carry these principles into effect.

There is here an important program of action for getting the best results from the labor forces of the country and at the same time maintaining industrial peace during the continuance of the war.

THE AVIATION PROBLEMS

Much of the success of military operations on land or sea depends upon the scouting and bombing of airplanes. Some of the fiercest combats in this incomparable war were those fought high in the air on the western battlefront. No army now moves forward without being informed by airplane observations of conditions ahead. On April 7, a terrific battle was fought in the air by large British air forces in conflict with a big German air squadron. Several of the British planes were brought down by enemy fire while 24 of them never returned. But those that did return accomplished their purpose of taking photographs of the German positions. Not only did they do this, but they dropped bombs on large munition factories, setting them on fire.

This feature of twentieth century warfare is mentioned merely to show that we must take it up and make it a success. No country in the world is better able to excel in this form of warfare than is the United States. We have the inventors, the daring aviators, and the means to build the best airplanes or hydroplanes to be found anywhere. On this phase of preparedness, no doubt the government will show the extent of its resources in a manner that will ultimately surprise the world.

The statement is made, however, by Ruth Law, who flew from Chicago to New York and who has recently returned from the western battlefront, that the hundreds of American airplanes sent to England and France have not been used. They are too slow and cannot be handled or maneuvered as easily as the British machines, many of which attain a speed of 135 miles an hour and rise in the air much faster.

Here, then, is where our skill and genius will be tested in producing an air squadron that cannot be excelled in speed and serviceability by any in the world.

THE RED CROSS

Through some misunderstanding it appears that a considerable number of people in different parts of the country have the idea that those who enter in a campaign for the Red Cross thereby obligate themselves to aid it in war service. Civilian volunteers for Red Cross work are not required to serve away from home.

At a meeting recently held in Washington at which over $20,000 was raised, Secretary Baker of the war department, read a letter from President Wilson, which had this statement:

"Experience is certainly the most convincing teacher, and we should learn by these European examples how to conduct our own relief work with the most thorough efficiency and system. With the Red Cross is broad enough to embrace all efforts for the relief of our soldiers and sailors, the care of their families, and for the assistance of any other noncombatants who may require aid."

"As the president of the American Red Cross, our branch of the great international organization, I most earnestly commend it to your confidence and your support. Upon your aid, upon the amounts and promptness of your gifts and contributions, must depend the fulfillment of the duties which are incumbent upon it. It serves so noble and beneficent a purpose that it must appeal to all who love their country and who love humanity."

This should satisfy everybody as to the worthiness of the Red Cross. Its appeal is made to all classes inasmuch as in its work the Red Cross is organized for work among American soldiers whenever such service is needed.

JUMP IN FOOD PRICES

The home burdens of the war will come chiefly to the rich and well-to-do in special tasks, but to the poor in the increased cost of living. The trouble in the latter case is that what is paid in the increased price of food does not go into the war chest, but to the pockets of the middlemen and other food purveyors. There has been some talk about fixing maximum and minimum prices of staple articles of food. If this could be done it would save the masses of the people from having to pay billions of dollars which they believe rightly or wrongly, are unjustly exacted from them if food prices have taken such a jump since the opening of the war, what may be expected before the end of the war? The government will have to avoid letting too much of the food supply out of the country.

THE THREATENED BLOCKADE

If the U-boats are operating on this side the Atlantic it is more than probable that they have established bases at various points along the Atlantic coast or on islands in the West Indies. They may even have secreted bases on American soil. It is very strange that airplanes are found hovering over the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. H. without identification. They cannot go to sea. They must have a base somewhere in that region, perhaps in the hills of New Hampshire or the rockbound coast of Maine.

There is no need of being greatly alarmed over the reported presence of U-boats on this side the Atlantic. If they are here, they will be disposed of in due time but it may require a period of search to locate them. The German blockade of American ports is impracticable but there is danger that mines may be strewn along the sea lanes. In all these matters the government must await developments.

JERUSALEM WILL BE TAKEN

The British are making steady advances against the Turks in Mesopotamia. The progress is slow owing to the lack of railroads or good roads of any kind. Thus far no attempt has been made to take Jerusalem, but the capture of the Holy City is down on the British program. It will be an easy matter later on; but all Christendom would protest against operations by which it would be swept by flames or otherwise destroyed.

ORDER TO ALIENS

The order issued by the United States marshals commanding all aliens now residing within half a mile of a fort, navy yard or munition factory to move away before June 1 is one that will cause considerable trouble. Even in this city it would cause great hardship to many; but it is understood that if any particular alien who is well conducted, would be greatly inconvenienced, he may be exempted from the operation of the order. The law, however, taken in general is a necessary war measure and must be enforced.

And now we are informed that after all there has been no naval battle. Still the sounds of heavy firing are heard in the direction of Cape Cod. The navy boys are probably indulging in target practice. Yet it is difficult to explain why a gunboat should report that a torpedo missed her by about thirty yards. But perhaps it is to be assumed that somebody will satisfy the natural longing for exciting news by manufacturing alarms if none really occurs.

Ex-Senator Root's attitude will be appreciated when he says that "we need no coalition cabinet here to make us loyal." The republicans are setting a good example in this respect and it is one that must be met by the democrats in the same spirit. There is, however, a serious hint in the ranks that should at once be closed up.

President Wilson will never approve a law to keep the people needlessly in the dark as to what the army and navy are doing in the war. To throttle the press by a rigorous censorship law would cause the people to lose interest in the war.

All are very enthusiastic in their support of their new friend, PHOSPHATED IRON.

Most middle-aged people find it difficult to realize the importance of their future health and happiness, or still trying to do a young man or woman's work, when the human machine is wearing out.

They are not aware of the changes in their bodies, are nervous, irritable, and the days work looks like a waste of a life. They are all in and played out before they start.

What one needs when they get to this stage and what they are always short of is Phosphates and Iron in their system. It cures the red blood, puts new life into their old blood, and gives them the strength to stand up and fight their battles with confidence and a smile.

PHOSPHATED IRON has surprised the whole medical profession by its wonderful effective results. It is the one combination they can depend on to quickly remedy the blood with Iron and strengthen, and renew the entire nervous system by feeding the Phosphates directly to the nerve centers, thus rapidly building up and strengthening the whole body.

"Out to tell the family secrets to the neighbors," said she firmly.

He Found a Lost Inch

Big loads of cement almost robbed Uncle Sam of a perfectly good soldier in the person of Carl R. Wheeler. When he applied at Kansas City for enlistment in the Third Missouri Infantry he was found to be an inch under the required height. But Wheeler protested that he was there all right in the matter of height, or had been, and that proper treatment ought to bring him back the necessary inch. He explained that labor at carrying sacks of cement on his head and shoulders had sunk his stature that full one inch, and presumably, if he had kept on that particular job, in time he'd be a dwarf. Well, anyhow, half a dozen guardsmen went to work on Wheeler to see if they could rescue his submerged inch. An hour's rolling and massaging and stretching while you wait got him past the doctors. The extra inch was there.

He Used Imaginary Paint

The afternoon was fairly quiet along Seventh avenue in the neighborhood of Thirty-seventh street. (This is a New York reporter's farm.) In fact, when Policeman Curran of the West Thirty-seventh street station wandered across the town into the avenue only two elements were disturbing its calm. Midway between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets a tan and magenta dog was scratching his back with a rear leg, while at the corner of Thirty-sixth street stood a civilian who seemed to be exorcising.

The dog, having completed the work in hand, looked slowly down the avenue. First he looked at Policeman Curran. Then his eyes slowly wandered along to where the man was exorcising. He loomed to the corner of Thirty-eighth street, looked back once and summing up the whole situation, said, "Wuff!" Then he disappeared due east.

Well, time passed. The only person now remaining on the avenue were Policeman Curran and the man who was apparently exorcising. Out of sheer loneliness Policeman Curran walked toward the man and saw that he was standing next to a tin bucket with the top off and was wildly gesticulating with a paint brush. Inasmuch as he was painting nothing and there was nothing in the bucket, Policeman Curran caught him. He regarded the man with no end of suspicion.

"What are you doing?" "What are you doing?" "I am the man who paints all the barber poles in New York. My name is Gilbert Raynor, as my father's before me. He was the greatest painter of barber poles New York ever knew. I am the best of him and next greatest, and I am practicing."

Policeman Curran had heard of Gilbert Raynor before, but had never seen him. He went into the York hotel, called an "admirable" from Bellevue and helped Gilbert into it. Mr. Stokes, who was on the ambulance, explained that Gilbert had been taken to the institution four times in three months, but that when his mental condition is being observed he invariably becomes normal. He merely suffers from painter's itch or something.

Thrifty Living

War time's make it necessary. But thrifty living is not necessarily poor living. Not by any means. Pay less—live better. It can be done. See the following list of economical, but good foods. First comes flour. We recommend

Pillsbury's Best

Made from selected wheat, rich in gluten—food value. It gives a large yield per sack of especially fine tasting bread. It's good for pastry, too. No need to buy two flours—Pillsbury's Best is enough.

Being Up
Moody, Battered Hams drank his
"Twenty cents for an oyster stew?"
"Mattered." "This cost of living thing is getting on my nerves. If things get up much higher, they can't
The darn stew tastes as if they nixed a weak oyster, through it to flavor it, and only seven crackers to eat with it."

And he clenched his teeth together savagely. To his surprise they came down on something round and hard.
"Ham! A pearl!" cried Hams.
"It was a pearl among pearls—quarter of an inch in diameter and in color a perfect dentures white. The proprietor, a thin man with large teeth and a small head, strolled over and quipped at it.
"A rich port pearl!" he commented admirably.

"What's it worth?" asked Hams.
The proprietor stroked his chin with a dry, rasping sound.
"Well," he replied, "I'll put an oyster in your stew for it."

"Well—a fair sized one, yes."
"None!" said Hams quickly. And he handed over the pearl, and the other stew drinkers watched enviously as the proprietor dropped a real oyster into his stew.—Detroit Free Press.

To the Flag

Unful! Unful!
Oh, Flag of Mine!
And let the wide world take
This message from your flapping folds,
"America's awake!"

The eagle's sleep
Is over at last.
And now his wings are free
To cleave the sky and send his cry
Across the land and sea!

Until the end
We pledge you now
That while we live with strength to give,
Triumphant you shall wave.

Unful! Unful!
Oh, Flag of Mine!
And let the wide world take

This message from your flapping folds,
"America's awake!"
